CIGAR LABELS.

Novel and Attractive Designs Much Sought After by Cigar Manufacturers.

[New York Sun]

A lithographing establishment in Pearl street having offered to pay the highest cash prices for first class cigar label designs, a reporter found a member of the firm looking over a portfolio of drawings and illustrations cut from periodicals. He selected a couple of drawings, and, turning to a young man, said "These are good designs, and"—picking up one of the illustrations—"you might make a design from that. I'll give you $15 for these three in crayon, and $20 if you'll do the last one in colors. That's $5 apiece for your crayon designs, and $10 for that which is to be in colors."

"Can I get the money for the two crayon drawings now?" the young man asked.

"Certainly," Mr. Phelps said, handing $10 to him, and the rest when you bring the other design. Just leave your address in case I should want you to do some other work before you finish this design."

The young man pocketed the $10 and quitted the office in a very happy frame of mind.

"He appears to be a smart young fellow," Mr. Phelps said, "and I'm glad we got hold of him. If we hadn't advertised we might never have known him."

"Haven't you artists to design for you?"

"A number of them. But we need more and more because the manufacture of domestic cigars is a constantly growing branch of trade and we are constantly being called on for labels for new brands. For this reason we want to have as many designers at our disposal as possible. The result of our offer is that men come here with samples of their work and we can tell at a glance whether it will be well to add them to our list of designers or not."

"Do you suggest designs yourself, or leave that to the artist?"

"You see, if a cigar manufacturer wants to get out a new brand, or to work off an old brand under a new label, which is the most usual case, he comes here and tells us what his idea is or, more frequently tells our canvassers—for there is so much competition in the business that we have to send around canvassers with books of labels in stock. We find out what price he desires to pay, whether he wants a label in black and white or in colors, and in how many colors, as the expense of getting up a label depends mostly on the number of colors to be printed. If he wants a cheap label we get a crayon design, design in colors from one of our fifteen-dollar designers. Let me show you how it is done," opening a large book full of labels.

"Here is a label on which canvassers in one section of the country alone managed to sell 5,000,000 cigars. A manufacturer sent us word that he wanted to work the Free Masons, because he thought plenty of them were to be found all over the country. So he wanted to get up a Grand Master brand, for which he wished a first class label. We got up this label for him. The centre is the figure of a Grand Master in full regalia; the side pieces are the implements used in Masonic rites."

"How much do labels like that cost?"

"They are the most expensive—$50 for a thousand sets."

"How many are to a set?"

"A set consists of the large label for the inside of the cover and the centre piece of the large label alone to be pasted on the outside. The success of this label has been so great that several other manufacturers have ordered designs for labels on which to work the Free Masons, and we have lithographed for them thousands of labels with other designs calculated to attract the eyes of Masons. That is the way designs usually originate—with the cigar manufacturer. Of course we have stock labels so that we can show samples."

"Do you ever give illustrations from periodicals to your artists as bases for designs?"

"Rarely. We usually let them do their own stealing."

"I often see labels of Havana manufacturers on boxes of domestic cigars. Do you sell imitations of Havana labels?"

"Not now, because there is a law against it. Imitating foreign labels used to be an important branch of our business, because when the manufacturing of domestic cigars began most domestic cigars were sold as imported, and the manufacturers required imitation labels. But now domestic cigars are sold on their merits."

"Is any special label most in demand?"

"When a manufacturer gets his name well up in the business, so that people begin to ask for his cigars, he will have his portrait put on his labels and stuck on the inside and outside of the box, like the specimens of personal portraiture which theatrical managers have posted on the fences."

"Do manufacturers get up brands for special sale among certain trades or professions as did the one who originated the Masonic brand?"

"Yes. You will find here labels with fire engines, ships, steamboats, and the like. During the excitement over six day walking matches we got up labels with the contestants on the track. Then we have pictures of famous actresses, of race horses, of the Tally Ho, and of winning yachts. In fact, the manufacturers, and we, too, read the newspapers, and if any event of great public interest offers any basis for a cigar label design you may be sure we take advantage of it."

Edison's Toy Baby and Patent Shirt.

[New York Sun]

Undergoing general circulation is a story that Edison, the inventor, has produced an electrical toy baby that can arrange the letters of any name from among spelling blocks, that can say "Come in," "Mamma, I'se sleepy," and two or three other sentences, and that can cry, laugh, sing, and play the piano.

"Is that a fact? I hadn't heard of that story yet," said Mr Edison's private secretary yesterday, "that must be the latest out about Mr Edison. Is that an European or an American tale?"

"That's of Waterbury, Conn., manufacture—that is if it is manufactured."

"Well, it certainly has no truth in it. Most of the clever stories about Mr Edison, however, are European. The latest was published in the Vienna Tageblatt. That was about the 365 shirt—a garment that Mr Edison was said to have succeeded in manufacturing of 365 delicately thin sheets of paper in layers, one layer for every day in the year. You tore off the outer sheet every morning, and started each day with a spick and span clean shirt. For leap years you bought a 366 shirt. A man in Paris went to an exchange office, bought a five-dollar bill and mailed it to Mr Edison for a sample of the garment, and a chap in Berlin tried to buy the agency for it in Prussia."

"A God-Send."

The children of Isreal were once fed by manna, sent from Heaven. This was an undoubted case of "God-send." The amelioration of human ills and ailments has been often undertaken, and as often failed. Ely's Cream Balm, however, "has been weighed in the balance and not found wanting." It is a sovereign, speedy, certain, and pleasant cure for Catarrh and Cold in the Head. Thousands of persons have attested this fact. "Ely's Cream Balm is a God-send," wrote Mrs. M. A. Jackson, of Portsmouth, N. H., on May 22d, 1882, "I had Catarrh for three years, had tried nearly all remedies, but to no purpose. Two or three times a week my nose would bleed quite freely, and I thought the sores in it would never heal. Your Balm has cured me." This preparation is not a liquid or a snuff, and is easily applied. Can you' reader, afford to experiment with injurious snuffs and injections when a pleasant and certain cure is at hand? The well known writer on the Boston Herald, B. W. BALL, of Rochester, N. H., writes, June 7, 1882.

"Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

stimulates and regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, renews and strengthens the vital forces, and speedily cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, Catarrh, General Debility, and all diseases arising from an impoverished or corrupted condition of the blood, and a weakened vitality.

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.

The Root Soap

This soap is taken from the Mexican Palmea or soap root, and contains no animal fat. As a toilet soap it is superior to anything ever offered to the public. While its cleansing capacity is [illegible] times greater than any soap made from alkali and grease, it contains nothing that would injure the most delicate skin; on the contrary, it will cure chapped hands, pimples, sunburn and all diseases of the skin. After washing with this soap a short time the skin becomes smooth and soft, rendering the complexion clear and beautiful. It will be found valuable as a hair wash, in removing and preventing dandruff, its great purity and freedom from mineral and animal substances make it the most desirable article for the infant bath that can be procured. It is the cheapest soap you can buy, because it will go further and give better satisfaction than any other. Dont fail to give it a trial.

The Campaign Has Opened.

The aim of those who had charge of the late reunion of prisoners of war in this city was to keep it absolutely free from anything like partisan politics, and nobody had any greater reason for wishing to avoid the unpleasantness of giving the affair such a direction than the Democrats. It is but just to them to say that they did their full share in contributing to the success of the reunion, and the conspicuousness with which they participated in the exercises was the subject of a good deal of comment, which will not be apt to subside now, since the home organ of their party gives place to a communication that charges the United States authorities ("the North," as this correspondent calls it), with practicing inhumanities upon Confederate prisoners that equaled in enormity the horrors of Andersonville. This communication, which appears in the Review of Sunday morning, bears the remarkable heading, "In the Interest of Fairness!" It is published without editorial comment, the editor not even taking occasion to disclaim responsibility for or sympathy with its wonderful misstatements. We have, therefore, to deal only with the letter itself and its anonymous author, until the editor of the Review unbosoms himself as to the merits of the case. It might be remarked in passing, however, that a noticeable feature in the great mass of Democratic newspapers is the readiness with which they fly to the defense of the rebels, though all the while maintaining a discreet silence with reference to the deeds of those who fought beneath the stars and stripes.

The writer of the communication is evidently of the opinion that one of the speakers at the reunion is to be the Republican candidate for governor, in 1884, and apparently has a desire to begin the fight just now. From behind his anonymous shelter he fulminates huge thunderbolts against the "idiotic blood and thunder speech of Gov. Oglesby," and speaks of the old veteran as being "too conceited," and "too stupid," and "possessing a popularity of a negative character." Now, the burden of Gov. Oglesby's offense, in his tabernacle speech, lays in the fact that his references to the matter of the exchange of prisoners were drawn from the official records of the war—many of them from the rebel archives themselves—and told in his graphic style they tended to show up the rebel authorities in a light that never fails to awaken the indignation of the Democratic press. Nothing else in his speech could have so awakened anybody who believes, like this correspondent, that such recitals are to be deprecated. Gov. Oglesby was listened to by hundreds of men who had endured the hardships and inhumanities of rebel treatment in prison, and not one of them had a word to say in contradiction, but on the contrary he was frequently interrupted in an approving manner by the ex prisoners before him. If his speech was "idiotic" it is strange that nobody except the Review correspondent discovered it.

The assertion to the effect that "the north" (which is the title that rebels and their Democratic sympathizers always use when speaking of the United States) treated its prisoners with the same inhumanity that the rebel government poured out upon the unfortunate men who suffered and died at Andersonville, raises a question of fact which we do not feel the need of discussing. The records of history prove the contrary, and there are too many shattered victims of rebel hospitality still dragging their weary lives along to proclaim that never before in civilized history was the same brutality shown by captors to captives. The truth stands in all its hideous blackness, and all the Democratic newspapers in America can never wipe it out.

We would like to know, however, whether the Review agrees with the sentiments expressed in the communication, which we reproduce in the REPUBLICAN to day, both for purposes of preservation and in order that it may have a wider circulation so that more people may be able to see that there are still some people who are willing to show before the world their sympathy with the cause that made Andersonville and Libby and Belle Isle possibilities.

THOUGH numerous causes may operate to turn the hair gray, all that is needed to restore the natural color is Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. For more than twenty years its sales have been enormous, but we have yet to learn of its first failure. 22

AT REST.

Burial of the Betrayed and Murdered Zora Burns.

O. A. Carpenter Under Arrest Charged with the Crime—Circumstantial Evidence vs. a Good Character Killed by a Kolored Konstable—A Model Policeman Postmasters in Trouble—Texas Stage Robbery.

LINCOLN, Ill., Oct. 22.—Never before has this city been so aroused and utterly beside itself on a Sunday as yesterday. From early morning excited knots of people have thronged the streets and shivered in the cold northeastern wind discussing the horrible butchery of Miss Zora Burns. The fatal spot where the body was found has been visited by hundreds, large crowds of people from the country being of the number. The still hunt of the officers for facts in the case is being pushed with an earnest determination, and the circumstantial blocks are being fitted for use when needed. The specials to Saturday's papers from Rochester, Ind., purporting to be interviews and doings of Wm. Dukes, Zora's affianced, are known to be myths, though not till yesterday did it become known that he was in the city three hours Friday night and had been before the coroner's jury.

Sheriff Werdell returned from the south yesterday morning, having been at St. Elmo, Zora's home, but is as close as an oyster, and if any others are suspected than O. A. Carpenter, the person now under arrest, it cannot be learned or even surmised from the actions of the officials.

An inquiry of one of the deputy sheriffs yesterday elicited the reply: "It is a strong chain of circumstantial evidence against a mighty good reputation."

It has been impossible to obtain admission to the jail for a talk with the accused, but he bears up nobly under the humiliation, and sends word to his friends to fear for the result.

THE FUNERAL AT ST. ELMO.

VANDALIA, Ill., Oct. 22.—The last sad scene of the tragedy in the lane—the killing of Zora Burns, of Lincoln, one week ago last night was witnessed yesterday afternoon, when the mortal remains of the poor girl were laid beside those of her mother and five sisters, in the burying-ground near St. Elmo. People from a distance of fifteen or twenty miles around came, some through mere curiosity, to see the dead girl. Long before the appointed hour for the funeral there could be seen numbers of persons wending their way towards the humble home of Mr. Burns, father of the deceased. Many were obliged to remain outside, the house being insufficiently large to admit a tenth part of those assembled. The services, which took place in the house, were brief, though exceedingly impressive, the remarks of the minister being very touching. A week of anxiety and care told plainly on the father of Zora Burns and though at various times, his feelings betrayed him, he bore the pangs with remarkable fortitude. An occasional sigh told more than he could express; and the poor step-mother, who seemed to have loved the child, with the same tender feelings of an own mother, broke almost completely down under the trying ordeal, and gave expression to her feelings in loud sobs that she could not control.

The chief mourner present and most conspicuous, rendered so by his being engaged to Zora Burns, was Thomas Dukes. The young man has an honest looking face. At times his grief seemed almost uncontrolable though he bore the terrible calamity with all the fortitude of a guiltless man. He was heard to remark that the idea of his being the murderer of Zora Burns was too awful to contemplate; that he would swear before God and man that he was innocent of the charge and would prove it at the proper time.

Before starting for the grave the face-plate of the coffin was removed, exposing to view the emaciated and somewhat discolored face of the dead girl in all its ghastliness. The lips were separated, revealing the upper front row of pearly white teeth and the eyes were sunken. A bunch of flowers at the throat hid from view the sickening gashes and a small bit of court plaster covered the dark spot on the forehead, the result of a blow from some blunt instrument. The apparel of the deceased was of snowy whiteness and tastefully arranged. The casket was of the latest pattern and trimmed with silver mounting. The coffin being placed in a hearse was slowly driven to the city of the dead, followed by a solemn procession of several hundred people, and amid sobs and tears the body of poor Zora Burns was laid to its final resting place.

Giant the Jack-Killer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. John Burke, Michael Taylor, and William and John Cottingham, brothers, ages ranging 6 to 8 years, yesterday afternoon found a giant powder cartridge on Broadway and Fiftieth street, where blasting operations were in progress. They applied a match to the fuze. John Burke's skull was fractured, the Cottingham brothers' eyes were so severely injured that they will probably lose their sight, and Michael Taylor was severely cut about the head and face. Jack Burke will probably die.

Overrun With Horse-thieves.

LITCHFIELD, Ill., Oct., 22.—This section of country is at present badly infested with horse-thieves, who continue to grow more and more bold in their depredations. Saturday night a brown mare belonging to E. P. Bandy was stolen from the hitching-rack in this city. The animal is a valuable one, and a liberal reward is offered for the thief's arrest. A regular gang is thought to be engaged in the stealing, which it will need sharp work to break up.

The Switchmen's Strike About Ended.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22. The switchmen's strike is regarded as about at an end. The strikers still hold out but the companies are now moving their freight with reasonable promptness by the aid of yardmen, platform men and clerks and new switchmen who are constantly arriving, and are permitted to work unmolested by the old employes.

The Texas Stage Robbers.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 22.—United States Deputy Marshal Tom Gowen yesterday arrived with Jack Brock and J. E. Terry, who are charged with the robbery of the Henrietta and Fort Sill stage near the former place, October 15. The prisoners were arrested near Wichita Falls.

AN elastic step, buoyant spirits, and clear complexion, are among the many desirable results of pure blood. The possessor of healthy blood has his faculties at command, and enjoys a clear and quick perception, which is impossible when the blood is heavy and sluggish with impurities. Mason's Real Wife.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 22.—Saturday Mrs. Mary L. Miller of Indiana arrived here to visit her husband, Frank Mason, the Brookfield bank robber, at the penitentiary, and was admitted to the interview by the warden. A few days ago the dispatches from here gave an account of Mason's second wife's visit and interview with him, and of their parting after exchanging vows of eternal fidelity, etc. The item was seen by Mrs. Miller at her home in Indiana, and she concluded to come on and learn all the facts in the case and also have a final interview with her recent spouse.

Mason's reception of his legal wife was rather a cool one; and the lady proceeded to give give him a long moral lecture on his life of deceit and crime. No tears were shed, and she finally bade him a last adieu, saying she never expected to see him again on earth, but suggested the possibility of a meeting in another world, where there would be no marrying or giving in marriage. She is evidently a lady of culture and refinement and is several years Mason's senior. She was a widow when Mason became acquainted with her under the assumed name of Harry Miller. They had one child which died several months ago. After deserting his home he went to Evansville, where he met his second love, whom he enticed to St. Louis, where he married her under the same name, Harry Miller, his real name being Mason, which latter name the second wife now assumed. Mrs. Miller was accompanied by her daughter, a child aged about 10 years, by her first husband. The lady is said to be quite wealthy and of good standing. If Mason was at liberty he could easily be convicted of bigamy, but is not likely to be molested on that score, having yet 18 years of his sentence to serve before being entitled to discharge under the good-behavior rule.

Assistant Postmaster General's Report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The annual report of Frank Hatton, first assistant Postmaster General, has been laid before the postmaster General, and is a most exhaustive document.

The following is of interest to the newspaper fraternity: Publishers of legitimate newspapers are especially interested in sustaining the department in its efforts, through the division of postal laws and regulations, to exclude from the pound rate all publications designed primarily for advertising purposes or for free circulation at nominal rates.

The enforcement of that law will enable legitimate publication favored by statute, as instruments of popular education, to sustain themselves by securing such local advertising support as would naturally come to them.

One of the Results of the Police Muddle

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 22. A policeman who gave his name as Roach, was staggering around the Polytechnic building Saturday evening, considerably intoxicated. He met a little boy near the Chestnut street entrance, and accused him of some evil design on something about the building, which the boy denied. The officer then proceeded to slap the boy, and said if the boy was a little larger he would "club him good."

The boy had called at the Medical Society for Dr. Schenck, and was going out of the building when accosted by the officer. The officer persisted in his threats to club the boy, called him a liar, etc., and gave the by-standers to understand that his name was "Roach, and that he was solid with the old man up-stairs, and that he was the only Roach on the force."

Finis Farr to Testify.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 22.—Mr. F. C. Farr, private secretary to Gov. Crittenden, has received a summons from Circuit Attorney Harris to appear before the grand jury to-morrow. The form of the summons is in substance the same as that sent the governor, excepting it requires the production of all letters and telegrams received by Mr. Farr personally on the subject of police matters, &c.

Mr. Farr will be in attendance at the time specified.

Nothing can be learned as yet from the governor regarding his intended action on the resolutions and petition of the Merchants' Exchange meeting.

A Postmaster Slugged and Robbed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Last Friday evening between 6 and 7 o'clock, as Mr. Harris, Postmaster at Sheffield, Ind., was going to his boarding house he was sand-bagged by two men and a watch and chain valued at $150, $200 in cash and a note for $700 were taken from him. In addition to his duties as Postmaster Harris was a telegraph operator and business manager for Shedd & Co., ice dealers at that place. The spot where the robbery took place was completely isolated, and the robbers had no trouble in escaping without being seen. It is reported, however, that a clew has been obtained at South Chicago, and the guilty parties will probably be arrested.

Rob Allen Killed by a Negro Constable.

VICKSBURG, Miss., Oct. 22.—Jos. White, a colored man, was brought to this city Friday night and placed in jail, charged with the killing of Robert Allen Friday on the plantation of Uriah Flowers, on Big Black. White stated that he was acting as deputy constable and went to the gin house on the Flowers plantation to serve an attachment on some cotton. A dispute arose between him and Allen, who struck him twice with a club, when White pulled his pistol and shot Allen, the ball entering his head, killing him instantly.

Serious Illness of Prof. Laws.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 22.—S. S. Laws, president of the State university, left a few days ago for Boston to attend the centennial celebration of the founding of Harvard medical college. His serious illness in New York caused his wife to leave Saturday night for that city.

Mrs. P. N. Royall, one of the oldest residents of Columbia, and a sister of the late Gen. Sterling Price, is seriously ill at her home here.

A Defaulting Postmaster.

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 22.—Information has been received here that the postmaster at Big Springs, Texas, had absconded, taking with him nearly $600 of the government funds. He was also agent of the Pacific express company and county clerk of Howard county, Texas, and is short in his accounts with those offices.

A Shot in the Eye.

STURGEON, Mo., Oct. 22.—While out hunting Saturday evening Lafayette Yates shot at a quail which flew in the direction of Thomas Neal, who was also hunting. One shot struck Neal in the right eye, completely destroying the sight. The doctors say he may lose the sight of both eyes.

Hazen's Blunder, or Garlington's Weakness?

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 22.—It seems that Lieut. Garlington's report has, by no means, cleared up the matter of the failure of the Greely relief expedition. Secretary Chandler to-day wrote another letter to Commander Wilder, asking him specifically whether he ever received or saw a copy of the so-called "supplementary order." The copy of the papers received by Secretary Chandler, purporting to be all he had, don't embrace this document nor contain any allusion to it. Secretary Lincoln was informed, it appears by the officials of the Signal Service office that the order to establish the depot on the way north to Littleton Island had been sent to Garlington, and he supposed as a matter of course that he would be truthfully informed. He did not deem it necessary to make a personal inspection of the inclosures transmitted by Gen. Hazen's bureau. It now appears from Garlington's report, which is acquiesced in by Hazen, that the former found this paper among his orders before he left, without indorsement or identification, and took it to Hazen. He asked:

"What's tais?"

Hazen replied: "Oh, that is of no consequence. It is a memorandum for the Secretary of the Navy."

Garlington therefore paid no attention to it, and went off depending on his original orders. It appears also that, although intended for the Secretary of the Navy, that official never received it, and it was left a stray sheet disregarded by all hands. With Garlington's paper it proved to be the keynote to the whole thing, and its disregard was the sole cause of the complete failure of the expedition. There are several discrepancies in the copies of the papers furnished by the Signal office to the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, which, it is understood, Mr. Lincoln will inquire into. The more the matter is investigated the more clearly it appears that the management of the expedition was simply botched by Gen. Hazen, or whoever had charge of the making up of orders at his office. Lieut. Garlington will be asked why he disobeyed orders after the loss of the Proteus in coming south of Cape York. He seems to have lost his head, according to his own report. He did not stop at Littleton Island because the sea to the north was all open and the weather so fine and balmy. Yet in a few hours after the loss of the Proteus things had so changed for the worse that he had no hope that the Yantic would ever get there, and he thought of nothing but flight.

Artesian Wells in Utah.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 22.—The possibility of artesian wells in this valley has caused the liveliest stir within a few days consequent upon one notable success on Henry Dinwoody's farm, half a mile southwest of the Denver and Rio Grande depot in this city. The place had been a dry alfalfa pasture, when John A. Groesbeck put down near the farm house a flowing well. It is 115 feet deep, has a six inch pipe and discharges 130 gallons per minute and cost $427. It flows water enough to irrigate a farm of 160 acres. The same vein was struck last spring by Mr. Groesbeck at his brick-yard on the west bank of the Jordan, but owing to improper treatment in sinking the pipe it did not flow freely. Simply boring a hole to the gravel stratum in which the water is found is not enough. When the water is struck it has to be handled carefully and piped close to make it rise. The water is supposed to be carried in a gravel stratum in connection with the water of Utah Lake, thirty miles south, and about 250 feet higher than the site of this well, and it is supposed that anywhere this stratum is tapped a plentiful water supply can be had, if this theory is true, the water problem for this valley is solved, but it remains to be fully proved.

Complaints Against the Gould System

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 22.—The taxable value of Texas is $520,000,000, an increase of over $100,000,000 for the past year.

Gov. Ireland has received no response from Superintendent Hoxie relative to providing separate coaches on the Gould system in this state for colored folks, and the governor is seriously considering the propriety of laying the matter before the extra session of the legislature, which convenes in January. He will also call attention to the delays in running passenger trains in this state on the above system, the alleged cause of the delays being the failure of trains in other states to make connections on the border. Many complaints of excessive freight are also coming up from different parts of the state, and should railroad legislation be recommended the companies may expect severe measures to be passed regulating their management.

Lincoln's Colored Appointee.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—John W. Plies, of St. Louis, a colored man, who has passed a satisfactory competitive civil service examination was on Saturday appointed by Secretary Lincoln to a thousand-dollar clerkship in the War department. This is the first appointment under the new law and is the second appointment from Missouri applicants for places in the classified departmental service who have passed the necessary competitive examination. Missouri is entitled to about four appointments out of every hundred.

Stole a Free Ride—to Heaven.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—The Rev. M. T. Rogers, a colored Baptist clergyman, having occasion to perform some ministerial functions at the upper end of his parish, boarded a freight train at New Iberia before daylight, intending to take a free ride, and made himself fast to the end of the car with a rope. He lost his grip, however, and fell and was dragged a long distance before his dead body was found.

Carried Away By the Flood.

NATCHEZ, Miss., Oct. 22.—The heaviest rain-storm in years swept over this place Saturday, prostrating the telegraph lines and doing other damage. A bridge on the outskirts of the city, on which were a man and a boy, was swept away. The boy was carried away and drowned and the man had his leg broken.

The Deadly Lead Pencil.

MOAWEQUA, Ill., Oct. 22.—Wallace Gregory, a well-known merchant, accidentally fell on the sidewalk. In his pocket was a lead pencil that penetrated the pit of his arm, the point of which protruded at the top of the shoulder. While the wound may not prove fatal, it is of a serious nature.

The Murderers Escaped.

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 22.—A Corpus Christi dispatch says: "The Toma Blanco store, forty miles south of San Diego, Duval county, was robbed on the night of the 17th inst. The proprietor and another man were killed. The murderers escaped to Mexico."

IN THE INTEREST OF FAIRNESS.

(From the Decatur Review, Oct. 21)

ED. REVIEW:—You will confer a favor by enlightening the public as to the object of calling the Union soldiers and ex-prisoners of war together. The brief, though comprehensive speech of Geo. A. Wilson, of Peoria, seemed to explain the object of this gathering in a true and soldier-like manner. And if he rightly comprehends the object of such gatherings, then some of the orators with more selfishness than patriotism are attempting to promote their own advancement by vicious appeals to the passions of men, rather than to the nobler qualities of the heart and mind—as evidenced by the idiotic blood and thunder speech of Gov. Oglesby. Democrats and Republicans both unite in these demonstrations, and their very presence compels them to listen to the mistatements of this voluminous declaimer.

Many Union soldiers suffered greatly in Southern prisons. But Mr. Wilson stated the truth when he said, "The exchange of prisoners was stopped by our government to put down the rebellion." And he might have added against the entreaties of the rebel government, who declared they had not food enough for their own men. And if Gov. Oglesby were not too conceited or too stupid, he might have done himself more justice.

The cruel treatment received by Union soldiers from some inhuman guards or commanders in the South, was not without a parallel in the North. We cannot believe, however, that it was sanctioned by either Government.

The statesmen and patriots of this country for nearly twenty years have devoted their talents to the healing of the wounds inflicted by the war on the people of the South as well as the North; while demagogues and office hunters have been using what little sense they possess in stirring up strife. Gov. Oglesby's popularity is of that negative character, which excites neither envy nor hate among the governing classes. And this is because he has given more weight to empty plaudits than to the more substantial acts of his fellow-citizens. But pray, let the world deal gently with him.

IS IT

IGNORANCE

KNAVERY?

Some of our competitors are constantly trying to mislead the unsuspecting by quietly whispering in their ears, the sophistical theory, that large expenses necessarily enhance rather than cheapen merchandise. But this is fallacious, because all depends on the amount of business done in proportion to expenses.

One favorite expression is, Look at their expenses, but they never tell them of the magnitude of our sales. So we will do so for them.

LINN & SCRUGGS retail more goods than all six dry goods stores in Decatur.

They are not obliged to pay THE RENT of SIX STORE-ROOMS. Nor the INSURANCE and TAXES on SIX stocks of goods. Nor as much for clerk hire as these six stores would aggregate. But more than all, LINN & SCRUGGS are not obliged to support EIGHT or TEN families. Nor divide the profits between EIGHT or TEN PARTNERS—as is the case with these SIX STORES—all of which would make a difference of twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars a year in favor of LINN & SCRUGGS.

But this is not all, LINN & SCRUGGS, in view of their large purchases from first hands, save from twenty-five to thirty thousand dollars more a year, which added to the amount saved in their expenses, will make a difference of FIFTY or SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLARS A YEAR; which amount LINN & SCRUGGS save to those who purchase their goods of them.

Besides, another important item, is a shrinkage of values in goods, which would not be as great in one as in six stores.

If there be any to dispute our reckoning, we should be glad to hear from them through the SAME MEDIUM we adopt.

It is easily understood how one farmer, cultivating 300 acres of land, can produce greater results than can six farmers, each cultivating 50 acres of land; and this represents our case exactly. And when we assert that those who do not buy goods of us stand with the class who pay fifty or sixty thousand dollars a year more for their goods than sold by us, we simply utter what we are prepared to prove.

Our business is good all the year round, which enables us to keep our stock free of shop-worn goods and give to our patrons fresh new goods every day in the year.

While we offer a Stock to select from, which for

Quantity, Quality, Variety and Price,

Miss Mather's Leah.

This noted, successful actress, who is to appear before a large Decatur audience at the opera house to-morrow night in "Leah, the Forsaken Jewess," assumed the same role at Rochester recently. A paper of that place said: If any doubt existed as to the power of Miss Mather to scale the summit of tragic height, it must have been effectually dispelled by her splendid performance of Leah at the Corinthian Academy of Music last evening. There have been but few actresses who have ever been able to satisfy all the demands upon emotional strength made by the character—indeed, the number who have successfully essayed it may be counted upon the fingers of one hand—and it must be confessed that anticipation of the performance promised very little in the way of satisfactory comparison. But this proved only another of many surprises, and all fears were dissipated by the realization of dramatic possibilities which challenged unreserved commendation and disarmed adverse criticism. The passionate love scene was finely done, and the gradations were made easily and naturally until the great curse scene was reached, when she was absolutely appalling in her relentless fury. The heart-broken, despairing woman was gone and in her place the audience saw a beautiful tigress, furious in her rage, and tortured beyond all endurance and restraint. The play of her electrical forces was magnificent, and the audience sat spell-bound until the fascinating illusion was broken by the drop of the curtain. It was a great exhibition of sustained power, and not for one instant was there a hint of poverty of reserve force. Miss Mather was called before the curtain repeatedly, and the large audience permitted itself to become infected with an enthusiasm which found expression in the most exravagant manner. Salvini rendered a fine support as Rudolph, and Mr. Levick played the apostate Nathan to the life. The remaining members of the cast appeared to somewhat better advantage than usual.

THE

Newest Thing in Light

We invite every one in to see the newest thing in

ELECTRIC LIGHT!

The Swan light, or the incandescent light. You will see by its aid more of everything in the way of

Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry

AND

Fancy Ornamental Goods

than you can see in the COMBINED stocks of Decatur.

You will see goods marked to sell (in many instances) at lower figures than the other stores paid for them.

You will see a line of particularly nice things suitable for

Wedding, Birthday & Holiday Presents,

not to be seen elsewhere except in larger cities.

In fact it will pay you to come in and see this new light and the many other things we display.

The Comedy of "Carrots."

This play is to be the bill at the opera house on Thursday evening, Oct. 25th, when the Adah Richmond R. E. Graham Company will appear. Said the N. Y. Star: "A magnificently large audience was present at the Windsor Theatre last night to witness the first performance of "Carrots," by the Adah Richmond Comedy Company. The play is a romantic drama, in three acts, through which are interspersed all the popular songs of the day. Miss Richmond and R. E. Graham delighted the audience with their singing and acting, and the cast was well sustained throughout." Popular prices.

A Revival.

The opening meeting of the proposed revival was inaugurated at the First M. E. church on Sunday evening, in the presence of a congregation which nearly filled the large audience room. The pastor, Rev. P. J. Dimmitt, delivered a feeling exhortation, urging the importance of a general religious awakening, and declared that it would surely come, and that possibly the scenes of last winter would again be witnessed in Decatur. Prayers were offered by Rev. Dimmitt, Revs. Dr. James Leaton and Niedermyer, and the meeting closed with a consecration service at the altar, about which gathered about 200 old and new members of the congregation. Services to-night and every evening this week.

Dr. Leaton, who is the secretary of the centennial commission, occupied the pulpit of this church at 10:30 a. m. and preached an interesting discourse. He was warmly welcomed by his old parishioners.

WE are authorized to state that the noted temperance advocate, Hon. Neal Dow, will lecture at the tabernacle in Decatur on Saturday evening, Nov. 3d.

THIS noon Harvey W. Downing was sitting up and was quite cheerful when a reporter called. He talked with but little difficulty. He is feeling well and his color is good. This morning he passed a few hours playing dominoes with Bunn Post.

JOHN BEALL, the inventor, has just completed one of his grinders, which is now in use at D. H. Heilman's grocery store, where it is run by water motor power. It is used to grind coffee, and works so well that Mr. Heilman wouldn't part with it under any consideration. Mr. Beall has struck a bonanza in his grinder, and he ought to organize a company at once to manufacture them on a large scale.

"Home, Sweet Home."

Rev. Mr. Vosburgh preached the closing sermon of the series of discourses on the Christian Home, at the Baptist church last evening to an audience that packed the house. The text was "God hath set the solitary in families," Ps. 68:6. The spiritual feeling in the congregation at the close was very strong and tender.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Mattie Givler has arrived home from St. Louis.

James H. Martin is in Bloomington visiting Will L. Miller.

Mrs. Rebecca J. Carpenter got home from Lincoln late Saturday night.

Orlando Powers has returned to Jacksonville.

Harry Crea arrived in the city Saturday evening, and will remain until early in November.

Rev. W. A. Ingram, pastor of the Christian Church at Illiopolis, visited Decatur to-day.

Judge Cloyd got in from Bement this morning, and will continue to preside in the county court until the Rork case is finally disposed of.

R. McClelland has established a branch coal office at Tuscola, having purchased the interest of the dealer at that place.

Patrick Kearney is home from Hot Springs, Ark., in improved health. He says he is still a little weak.

Miss Luella Borders, sister of Mrs. A. M. Werner, of this city, and Mr. J. T. Stewart, of Kansas, were married at Burlington Junction Friday evening.

Col. Waggoner will leave for New York City to-night to meet and welcome home his father, Ex-Mayor Waggoner, who has been in Europe several months.

John Strohm is again up and about attending to business. He is rapidly gaining strength and flesh, and is much healthier looking than he was ten days ago.

Samuel Ackerman, foreman of the Review job room, is thinking of starting a Republican newspaper at Tuscola. Sam would make a lively paper.

Clinton Register: Mr. T. M. Wells, our photographer, is building a residence southwest of the public square on one of the finest lots in the city, and has located permanently, becoming one of the solid business men of Clinton.

A Splendid Troupe.

It was a large and thoroughly pleased Decatur audience that greeted the appearance of the Original Georgia Minstrels, America's favorites, at the opera house, Saturday night. The gentlemanly proprietors, Richard & Pringle, have an ideal troupe of 20 colored artists, well worthy of the liberal patronage of the amusement public everywhere. The entertainment of Saturday evening was the best ever given by a colored troupe in Decatur. It embraced a fine olio of music, mirth and witticisms, in which the Mallory Brothers Abe Porter, Irving Salyes and Frank Newhall were the special favorites, and kept the audience continually laughing and applauding. The wind-up of the first part was a review of the new Indian army, and the applause it created could have been heard for many blocks. The second part of the performance was the carnival of fun, in which Abe Porter, the Mallory Brothers, Sayles and Johnson, the great Lewis, and W. O. Terry, appeared in rib-tickling specialties. The closing piece was "Harris' Ball," given by the full strength of the company. The new Ideal Quartette with the Georgias—Newhall, Boston, Terry and Randolph—won hosts of admiring friends. They sang comic and sentimental selections most artistically, and were called out four times. The proprietors have a handsomely uniformed cornet band, and the orchestra is one of the best that has lately visited Decatur. The Georgias should come again, and come often.

THE ZURA BURNS CASE.

Return of Mrs. R. J. Carpenter—The Accused in Jail.

There is nothing new from Lincoln in the Zura Burns case, and the jury is yet to bring in a verdict. The articles taken to Chicago to be examined have been inspected by experts who say the stains were made by blood. Tom Dukes was in Lincoln last week, and testified before the coroner's jury on Friday, leaving that night for Decatur. His name is on the register at the New Deming Hotel, and a man bearing that name remained there over night, going away Saturday morning to St. Elmo, to be present at the burial of the murdered girl. Dukes did attend the funeral, which occurred Sunday afternoon.

MRS. R. J. CARPENTER AT HOME.

Saturday evening Marshal Mason received a telegram from Lincoln asking him to send an officer to the depot to meet Mrs. Rebecca J. Carpenter when she arrived on the night train. Officer Bailey, who is acquainted with the lady, was commissioned to do the bidding of the Lincoln officer, and the lady was seen safely to her apartments in the Brenneman building on Franklin street. Sunday evening a REPUBLICAN reporter paid Mrs. Carpenter a visit and learned all she knew about Zura Burns. Mrs. Carpenter is a widow, attractive in appearance, intelligent and shrewd. She went to Lincoln Friday evening and was before the coroner's jury several hours. After she had told all she knew, and after Detective Butler had made the discovery of the bloody condition of O. A. Carpenter's buggy, on Saturday morning (as already stated), Carpenter was arrested.

Mrs. Carpenter said that during her stay in Lincoln on Saturday no less than a dozen reporters had surrounded her and got all she knew about the case. Below is about the statement made by Mrs. Carpenter before the Lincoln jury:

She said she first met Zura Burns a year ago last July, and July 12 last Zura went to live at her house at Decatur, and she left there for good Sept. 4, but prior to that was absent for a whole week. She was in good general health, and the speaker never suspicioned her condition until she inquired one morning as to who was a good surgeon, as she had something the matter with her throat, when witness suspected something was wrong. Zura received letters while at witness' house, and she got at least three. The notes, witness believed, were from O. A. Carpenter. Zura wrote to Mr. Carpenter. Witness was positive of this, because she had taken two letters witten by Zura and addressed to Carpenter to the postoffice. Witness was never told anything positive about Carpenter by Zura, but she was overcome by curiosity and one day took a favorable opportunity to look at an open letter Zura had just written, and it was to Carpenter and contained the words:

"I am living here with a widow woman; she is an awful good woman and asks no questions. I pay $3.50 a week board. A fellow can't get along without money, you know. Come over and we will have some fun."

The witness said, farther, that she had secretly read two more letters written by Zura—one to Tom Dukes and one to Carpenter. Zura told her that she was going to marry Tom Dukes but that she had no affection for him. Witness was positive she had seen letters which Zura said were from Carpenter. One was a long letter, and three were short notes. They came by mail, and were not signed. One of the notes contained the following words:

"Take your medicine and be a good girl."

When Zura left witness' house Sept. 4, she said she had a job at sewing, and was going to Lincoln.

Witness was positive she had seen several letters, or notes, with no signature, which Zura said came from Carpenter.

"Did you have any of those letters to take with you to Lincoln?" asked the reporter.

"No; I have none of Zura's letters, except one which she received from Tom Dukes, and that is of no importance."

"How do the people at Lincoln feel over the arrest of Carpenter?"

"Well, it looked to me as if about everybody was satisfied that the guilty man was in custody, though on the streets such inquiries as 'Is he the right man?' 'Do you think you've got the right man?' etc., are put to officers by the people. The streets of Lincoln are alive with people, and the only topic spoken of is the murder of Miss Burns.

A VISIT TO THE SCENE.

Mrs. Carpenter continued: Before leaving for home on Saturday I drove out in a buggy to the lonely place where Miss Burns was butchered and deserted. The ground for a considerable distance is literally soaked with the life-blood of the poor girl. I gathered up some of the earth and here it is; you can see for yourself that it is saturated with blood. The reporter took a piece of the cloddy earth in his hand. The evidence of blood on the dirt was plainly visible. "Hundreds of people," continued Mrs. C., "have visited the scene, and none look upon it without a shudder."

YESTERDAY was a day of unusual interest at the U. B. church. The congregations were good and very attentive. Rev. H. W. Trueblood, the pastor, preached in the morning from the 15th Psalms, 1st and 2d verses: "Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle?" The principle part of the discourse was upon the description and purpose of the tabernacle. In the evening he preached on the spirit, taking his text in St. John, 14-26: "He shall teach you all things."

IN Justice McGorray's court Saturday evening William Needham pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined $15 and costs. This is the man at whom Officer Bailey fired and arrested late Thursday night. The man ran but was pursued and finally caught.

CONTRAST

is the standard for measurement. "Wide" is contrasted by "narrow"; "long" by "short," and so is "great" by "small." For instance, to exemplify Contrast, Barnum shows by the side of Jumbo his Baby Elephant, by the side of his Norwegian Giant the pigmy Tom Thumb. When Barnum is not in Decatur we have an example here, wherein SMALL MEN try to walk in the footsteps of the GREAT.

Everybody will notice the contrast in favor of our

A Revival.

The opening meeting of the proposed revival was inaugurated at the First M. E. church on Sunday evening, in the presence of a congregation which nearly filled the large audience room. The pastor, Rev. P. J. Dimmitt, delivered a feeling exhortation, urging the importance of a general religious awakening, and declared that it would surely come, and that possibly the scenes of last winter would again be witnessed in Decatur. Prayers were offered by Rev. Dimmitt, Revs. Dr. James Leaton and Niedermyer, and the meeting closed with a consecrati no service at the altar, about which gathered about 200 old and new members of the congregation. Services to-night and every evening this week.

Dr. Leaton, who is the secretary of the centennial commission, occupied the pulpit of this church at 10:30 a. m. and preached an interesting discourse. He was warmly welcomed by his old parishioners.

We are authorized to state that the noted temperance advocate, Hon. Neal Dow, will lecture at the tabernacle in Decatur on Saturday evening, Nov. 3d.

This noon Harvey W. Downing was sitting up and was quite cheerful when a reporter called. He talked with but little difficulty. He is feeling well and his color is good. This morning he passed a few hours playing dominoes with Bunn Post.

John Brall, the inventor, has just completed one of his grinders, which is now in use at D. H. Heilman's grocery store, where it is run by water motor power. It is used to grind coffee, and works so well that Mr. Heilman wouldn't part with it under any consideration. Mr. Beall has struck a bonanza in his grinder, and he ought to organize a company at once to manufacture them on a large scale.

"Home, Sweet Home."

Rev. Mr. Vosburgh preached the closing sermon of the series of discourses on the Christian Home, at the Baptist church last evening to an audience that packed the house. The text was "God hath set the solitary in families," Ps. 68:6. The spiritual feeling in the congregation at the close was very strong and tender.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Mattie Givler has arrived home from St. Louis.

James H. Martin is in Bloomington visiting Will L. Miller.

Mrs. Rebecca J. Carpenter got home from Lincoln late Saturday night.

Orlando Powers has returned to Jacksonville.

Harry Cron arrived in the city Saturday evening, and will remain until early in November.

Rev. W. A. Ingram, pastor of the Christian Church at Illiopolis, visited Decatur to-day.

Judge Cloyd got in from Bement this morning, and will continue to preside in the county court until the Rork case is finally disposed of.

B. McClelland has established a branch coal office at Tuscola, having purchased the interest of the dealer at that place.

Patrick Kearney is home from Hot Springs, Ark., in improved health. He says he is still a little weak.

Miss Luella Borders, sister of Mrs. A. M. Werner, of this city, and Mr. J. T. Stewart, of Kansas, were married at Burlington Junction Friday evening.

Col. Waggoner will leave for New York City to-night to meet and welcome home his father, Ex-Mayor Waggoner, who has been in Europe several months.

John Strohm is again up and about attending to business. He is rapidly gaining strength and flesh, and is much healthier looking than he was ten days ago.

Samuel Ackerman, foreman of the Review job room, is thinking of starting a Republican newspaper at Tuscola. Sam would make a lively paper.

Clinton Register: Mr. T. M. Wells, our photographer, is building a residence southwest of the public square on one of the finest lots in the city, and has located permanently, becoming one of the solid business men of Clinton.

A Splendid Troupe.

It was a large and thoroughly pleased Decatur audience that greeted the appearance of the Original Georgia Minstrels, America's favorites, at the opera house, Saturday night. The gentlemanly proprietors, Richard & Pringle, have an ideal troupe of 20 colored artists, well worthy of the liberal patronage of the amusement public everywhere. The entertainment of Saturday evening was the best ever given by a colored troupe in Decatur. It embraced a fine olio of music, mirth and witticisms, in which the Mallory Brothers Abe Porter, Irving Sayles and Frank Newhall were the special favorites, and kept the audience continually laughing and applauding. The wind-up of the first part was a review of the new Indian army, and the applause it created could have been heard for many blocks. The second part of the performance was the carnival of fun, in which Abe Porter, the Mallory Brothers, Sayles and Johnson, the great Lewis, and W. O. Terry, appeared in rib-tickling specialties. The closing piece was "Harris' Ball," given by the full strength of the company. The new Ideal Quartette with the Georgias—Newhall, Boston, Terry and Randolph—won hosts of admiring friends. They sang comic and sentimental selections most artistically, and were called out four times. The proprietors have a handsomely uniformed cornet band, and the orchestra is one of the best that has lately visited Decatur. The Georgias should come again, and come often.

THE ZURA BURNS CASE.

Return of Mrs. R. J. Carpenter—The Accused in Jail.

There is nothing new from Lincoln in the Zura Burns case, and the jury is yet to bring in a verdict. The articles taken to Chicago to be examined have been inspected by experts who say the stains were made by blood. Tom Dukes was in Lincoln last week, and testified before the coroner's jury on Friday, leaving that night for Decatur. His name is on the register at the New Deming Hotel, and a man bearing that name remained there over night, going away Saturday morning to St. Elmo, to be present at the burial of the murdered girl. Dukes did attend the funeral, which occurred Sunday afternoon.

MRS. R. J. CARPENTER AT HOME.

Saturday evening Marshal Mason received a telegram from Lincoln asking him to send an officer to the depot to meet Mrs. Rebecca J. Carpenter when she arrived on the night train. Officer Bailey, who is acquainted with the lady, was commissioned to do the bidding of the Lincoln officer, and the lady was soon safely to her apartments in the Brenneman building on Franklin street. Sunday evening a Republican reporter paid Mrs. Carpenter a visit and learned all she knew about Zura Burns. Mrs. Carpenter is a widow, attractive in appearance, intelligent and shrewd. She went to Lincoln Friday evening and was before the coroner's jury several hours. After she had told all she knew, and after Detective Butler had made the discovery of the bloody condition of O. A. Carpenter's buggy, on Saturday morning (as already stated), Carpenter was arrested.

Mrs. Carpenter said that during her stay in Lincoln on Saturday no less than a dozen reporters had surrounded her and got all she knew about the case. Below is about the statement made by Mrs. Carpenter before the Lincoln jury:

She said she first met Zura Burns a year ago last July, and July 12 last Zura went to live at her house at Decatur, and she left there for good Sept. 4, but prior to that was absent for a whole week. She was in good general health, and the speaker never suspicioned her condition until she inquired one morning as to who was a good surgeon, as she had something the matter with her throat, when witness suspected something was wrong. Zura received letters while at witness' house, and she got at least three. The notes, witness believed, were from O. A. Carpenter. Zura wrote to Mr. Carpenter. Witness was positive of this, because she had taken two letters written by Zura and addressed to Carpenter to the postoffice. Witness was never told anything positive about Carpenter by Zura, but she was overcome by curiosity and one day took a favorable opportunity to look at an open letter Zura had just written, and it was to Carpenter and contained the words:

"I am living here with a widow woman; she is an awful good woman and asks no questions. I pay $3.50 a week board. A fellow can't get along without money, you know. Come over and we will have some fun."

The witness said, further, that she had secretly read two more letters written by Zura—one to Tom Dukes and one to Carpenter. Zura told her that she was going to marry Tom Dukes but that she had no affection for him. Witness was positive she had seen letters which Zura said were from Carpenter. One was a long letter, and three were short notes. They came by mail, and were not signed. One of the notes contained the following words:

"Take your medicine and be a good girl."

When Zura left witness' house Sept. 4, she said she had a job at sewing, and was going to Lincoln.

Witness was positive she had seen several letters, or notes, with no signature, which Zura said came from Carpenter.

"Did you have any of those letters to take with you to Lincoln?" asked the reporter.

"No; I have none of Zura's letters, except one which she received from Tom Dukes, and that is of no importance."

"How do the people at Lincoln feel over the arrest of Carpenter?"

"Well, it looked to me as it about everybody was satisfied that the guilty man was in custody, though on the streets such inquiries as 'Is he the right man?' 'Do you think you've got the right man?' etc., are put to officers by the people. The streets of Lincoln are alive with people, and the only topic spoken of is the murder of Miss Burns.

A VISIT TO THE SCENE.

Mrs. Carpenter continued: Before leaving for home on Saturday I drove out in a buggy to the lonely place where Miss Burns was butchered and deserted. The ground for a considerable distance is literally soaked with the life-blood of the poor girl. I gathered up some of the earth and here it is; you can see for yourself that it is saturated with blood. The reporter took a piece of the cloddy earth in his hand. The evidence of blood on the dirt was plainly visible. "Hundreds of people," continued Mrs. C., "have visited the scene, and none look upon it without a shudder."

Yesterday was a day of unusual interest at the U. B. church. The congregations were good and very attentive. Rev. H. W. Trueblood, the pastor, preached in the morning from the 15th Psalms, 1st and 2d verses: "Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle?" The principle part of the discourse was upon the description and purpose of the tabernacle. In the evening he preached on the spirit, taking his text in St. John, 14-26: "He shall teach you all things."

In Justice McGorray's court Saturday evening William Needham pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined $15 and costs. This is the man at whom Officer Bailey fired and arrested late Thursday night. The man ran but was pursued and finally caught.

is the standard for measurement. "Wide" is contrasted by "narrow"; "long" by "short," and so is "great" by "small." For instance, to exemplify Contrast, Barnum shows by the side of Jumbo his Baby Elephant, by the side of his Norwegian Giant the pigmy Tom Thumb. When Barnum is not in Decatur we have an example here, wherein SMALL MEN try to walk in the footsteps of the GREAT.

The Daily Republican.

BISHOP FALLOWS, of Chicago, formerly a volunteer Brigadier General, who made the principal speech at the recent reunion of the Army of the Tennessee, is an eloquent speaker. He closed a three-column address with the following invocation.

And may the very heavens catch the echoing strains of that grand orchestral song, which must roll onward and upward from source to mouth of our thousand-leagued rivers, from base to top of our sky-kissing mountains, from center to circumference of our ocean-like prairies, as it breaks from the lips of native American, tamed Indian, and African, Saxon, and Norman and Dane, of Scandinavian, German and Celt—the song of sixty millions of joyful people, filling in its "sweep continental" the whole world with the harmony of the Union and the melody of freedom,

> "My country, 'tis of thee,
> Sweet land of liberty,
> Of thee I sing."

The Business Situation.

New York Nation.

The general trade and financial situation presents more conflicting features than usual. At the West there has been for several weeks, and is yet, a larger movement of grain and cattle to market than in the same period of last year, and in some particulars even larger than in 1881, which was the year of the greatest crops on record. This has stimulated various branches of mercantile trade in that part of the country. But the great lines of industry embraced in the iron trade are still as depressed as they have been at any time in the past year. The production of both coal and iron has been in excess of the demand, which the reduction of $1 per ton on pig-iron does not seem to improve; and, though the coal trade is experiencing the usual activity incident to the beginning of cold weather, the fact that the product of the anthracite coal companies has been 2,000,000 tons (or 10 per cent.) greater in the nine months to October 1, 1883, than in the same period in 1882, without any corresponding increase of demand, is given as a reason for the probable curtailment of the production during the next three months. The railroad earnings for September were good, and showed a gain of 8 per cent. over those of September, 1882—not quite equal to the increase of mileage. Confidence in railroad property has, however, been greatly shaken. Railway stocks have declined steadily for months, and in the past week the decline in some stocks has at times been almost panicky. Railroad bonds have been a little stronger than the stocks, but even in these, and especially in the speculative bonds, the decline has been large. Money is abundant—abnormally so for loan on collateral security, at rates lower than have ever prevailed at this season of the year. At the same time more capital is being turned out of investment in Government bonds by the repeated calls for more bonds for redemption. The call for $15,000,000 on Saturday makes $62,000,000 that have been called since August 12.

Who Killed Poor Zora Burns?

LINCOLN, Ills., Oct. 20.—Interest in the case of the unfortunate Zora Burns is on the increase. The theory of the guilt of a prominent citizen is shaken, notwithstanding the chain of damaging circumstantial evidence against him, by the receipt of the following news:

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—A Daily News staff correspondent telegraphs from Rochester, Ind., a full interview with Tom Dukes, who was engaged to marry Zora Burns, murdered at Lincoln. Dukes was found in hiding. He had his hand done up in a rag, and told different stories about how he had hurt it. He said he could not be hired to go over to Lincoln. He would not tell where he was from Friday until Tuesday, although he acknowledged that he was away from home. He gave up two letters from Zora Burns. In one she says that he must meet her at Lincoln by October 15, and accuses him of trying to go back on her. Dukes said he knew Zora was enciente, but said he had never sustained improper relation with her. Miss Frear, the young woman Dukes is engaged to in Keewannee, Ind., said Tom told her that he was in trouble out in Illinois, but would not tell her what it was. The people of Fulton county, Indiana, became aroused yesterday, and the sheriff started to arrest Tom Dukes, but he was not to be found. It is a good country for concealment, and it is doubtful if the arrest is effected without great delay."

The coroner's inquest last night resulted in bringing to light no new clews. It will be resumed Monday.

The father took the remains of his daughter to St. Elmo, her home, where she will be interred beside her mother. The father will be back Monday and will bring the girl's trunk and other personal effects, which are expected to assist in the investigation. He has a farm which, he says, he will spend to find out the criminal, and, if necessary, he will "mortgage his life."

The Paris Journals.

[Cornhill Magazine.]

All the Paris journals publish more or less faits divers, but some half-dozen of them keep one or two "reporters a l'Americaine," with a staff of subalterns under them. The "reporter a l'Americaine" has a specialty of interviewing the celebrity of the hour, of wresting secrets from diplomatists and statesmen, and of bribing the valets of kings on voyage to tell him what the monarchs eat for breakfast. The "reporter a l'Americaine" doubtless arrives at a certain number of interesting facts, but his prose is utterly untrustworthy and too full of his own personality to be practical. The whole system of reporting and news-gathering is trivial. There is not a single Parisian journal that gives an adequate and thoroughly unbiased report of a political meeting. As for rapidity in publishing news, it is out of the question. A catastrophe happens at Lyons, say on Monday morning, the Havas Telegraphic agency receives a dispatch of ten lines, Figaro sends down its "reporter a l'Americaine," and in The Figaro of Tuesday we read: "Terrible Catastrophe at Lyons. By telegraph. I arrived here to find the whole city in desolation. The latest reports mention twenty killed and three hundred wounded. Full details to-morrow. Pierre Giffard."

Buying Mountain "Moonshine."

[Chicago Herald.]

Hunting moonshiners is not considered a picnic by revenue officers. The gay mountaineer is a first rate fellow, at a good distance. It appears that his whisky is not a thing to hanker after, being a common corn, clear as water and burning as fire. The manner of selling it is in true primitive style, the purchaser putting his jug or bottle in the hollow or stump of a tree with the price of the liquor. On calling back the jug is full and the money gone. Then they have what is dubbed the "horn racket." Alongside the road a big horn is hung to the tree. If you want to buy the corn juice you blow a blast. Soon a girl comes out of the bushes and tells you to put your hand hand in her pocket. You obey, drop some money in the pocket, and take out your bottle and go. Flirting under the circumstance is at one's peril, as a six foot moonshiner is in point blank range with his finger on the trigger of his favorite persuader.

Luther's Anger.

In Prof. Fisher's paper on "Martin Luther," in The Century, is quoted from Luther: "I never work better than when I am inspired by anger, when I am angry I can write, pray, and preach well, for then my whole temperament is quickened, my understanding sharpened, and all mundane vexations and temptations depart."

Our Present Blessings

Our blessings are not appreciated until we are deprived of them. Most notable among them is health, the lack of which magnifies our other burdens. A hacking cough, a severe cold or any throat or lung disease is very troublesome; but all these may be quickly and permanently removed by Dr. Bigelow's Positive Cure. Trial bottle free of Dr. A. J. Out on the Prairie.

Concerning Something Better than Mrs. Toodles' Wheelbarrow And the Reasons Why.

When a certain Commissary General complained to the Duke of Wellington that Sir Thomas Picton had declared he would hang him if the rations for that General's division were not forthcoming at a certain hour, the Duke replied:

"Ah! did he indeed go so far as that? Did he say he'd hang you?"

"Yes, my Lord."

"Well, General Picton is just the man to keep his word. You'd better get the rations up in time."

But to get rations or anything else up in time one must know when to lay his hand on them. As Mr. Toodles said about the coffin which he had bought at auction and brought home to his wife:

"If anything should happen, my dear, it will be so handy to have in the house."

Being in the great wholesale rug house of William Bart, in Elgin, Ill., one day, Mr. G. H. Sherman, the photographer of that place, remarked, concerning PARKER'S TONIC: "I have used it in my family for two years, and I unhesitatingly pronounce it the best medicine we have ever used. It is handy to have in the house, and we are never without it."

Culled from the mass of reasons why Mr. Sherman was right, be good enough to consider these. First, PARKER'S TONIC is delicious to the palate; second, it invigorates, but does not promote a love for strong drink; third, it cures Coughs and Colds by inciting the torpid organs into healthy action, and opening all the pores of the skin; fourth, it purifies the Blood, thus curing Kidney, Liver and Lung diseases and Rheumatism; fifth—

But take it into your house, and it will speak for itself. Once used, you will change it for nothing else. Physicians commend it. Prices, 50 cents and $1. HISCOX & CO., Chemists, New York. [Oct. 21—d&w4w

A GRATEFUL PATIENT.
ARCOLA, Ill., October 24, 1881.

MRS. DR. KECK—Kind Friend: I can truly say my wife is enjoying better health than for ten years. Having suffered with kidney disease nearly twenty years, being pronounced diabetes, growing worse all the time, her general health being affected, and having the worst female trouble, at times suffering pain which was worse than death; and for 10 years she had been doctoring with the best of physicians without seeing any relief; but I did not expect any change in so short a treatment, for I knew the disease was a chronic trouble, and she had doctored for ten years with other physicians without relief, and, to be just, I must give Mrs. Dr. Keck a fair trial. But during the eighth week the improvement was wonderful. My friends said it would not last, and the trouble would return; but I am happy to state that the improvement continues, and she feels comparatively well, although I expect it to take time to get a permanent cure, for a disease of twenty years' standing cannot be cured in a month or two. I even expect there will be days when she will feel badly, but so far there has not been any return of the disease. I can say that I feel thankful to Almighty God for making Mrs. Dr. Keck the instrument in the hands of the Lord, for I do not believe my wife could have stood the misery this long, for she was so rapidly growing worse. I most heartily recommend Mrs. Dr. Keck to the afflicted, and will answer all letters of inquiry.
JAMES WILSON.

A REMARKABLE CURE.
IVESDALE, Champaign Co., Ill., Oct. 22.

MRS. DR. KECK—Dear Madam: I deem it my duty to the many suffering people to make known the condition of my wife, and the great benefit derived from your treatment in so short a time. For I feel sure if she had not followed your prescriptions she would now be in her grave, having suffered everything possible to suffer and live. She had catarrh so bad she could not taste or smell anything, and it had gone to the left lung. She coughed badly all the time, raising much heavy matter, and was not able to lie on her left side for a year. She had sinking and smothering spells. Her feet and hands were cold for two years. She also suffered much with heart trouble, was very much debilitated, no appetite, not able to do anything, and weighed 70 pounds. She also had liver and kidney trouble, suffering very much with pain in the back. I had her under the care of our best physicians from three counties, without any benefit. Last May, hearing of Mrs. Dr. Keck having an office in Peoria, I wrote to her, and sent for a month's treatment, although all of my friends told me that I might as well throw my money in the fire, for if she did send the medicine there would only be a thimble full. But when it came there was a large box of it. My wife improved very fast under the first month's treatment. But when the medicine commenced to work good upon the system to remove the disease it made her feel very badly for a time, but since that passed over she has steadily improved, until now, after five months' treatment, she is another woman. And I thank God I heard of Mrs. Dr. Keck. She has had no more sinking or smothering spells, and does not cough or raise so much matter from her lungs, but is now able to do all her own work. Week before last she did a big washing, of bed-clothes and carpets, but had to eat three big meals and take some of your medicine to help her along. She says she feels better than for five years. She now weighs 105 pounds—a gain of 35 pounds since she began your treatment. If any one wishes to hear from me they can address J. T. HARSHBARGER.

LOSS OF VOICE.
CANTON, Ill., March 13, 1882.

MRS. DR. KECK—Dear Madam: I feel it my duty to you and those who are suffering with catarrh to make known what has been done for me under your treatment. I have had catarrh all my life. When I began your treatment I could not speak aloud, and my lungs were sore, weak and painful. In one month I could talk as well as ever. I took treatment only two months, but the results were the very best and now, more than a year afterward, I am still well and able to do all my house work.
Ever your friend, MRS. CAL S. ARMSTRONG
